WEATHER: Fair tonight; killing frost.

GLENDALE, LOS ANGELES COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, JAN. 20, 1922

Sixteen Pages VOL. XVII NO. 118

DAMAGE TO CITRUS CROP BY COLD IS NOT VERY GREAT

Growers Prepared for Frost and Smudge; Redlands Is Hit by 20 Degrees

Battling to ward off the frost menace which struck southern California in the wake of the cold wave that has been sweeping the northern part of the state, orange and lemon growers smudged early today, raising the temperature several degrees, according to dispatches received today by The Glendale Evening News over its International News Service leased wire.

Warned by the United States weather bureau, the growers were prepared for the severe cold and reports from various sources were to the effect that while citrus crops in a few of the more exposed places probably suffered, it is believed that the loss would not be considerable.

Cold in Los Angeles

Los Angeles experienced the coldest weather early today since 1913 when a minimum of 28 degrees was recorded. The temperature there at 6:30 a. m. was 21 degrees. According to reports received at the weather bureau, water pipes were frozen in some sections of the city and ice formed in pools and bodies of water in the more exposed places.

The official weather forecast for Los Angeles is: "Fair tonight and Saturday. Freezing temperatures tonight." For Southern California: "Tonight and Saturday fair, continued cold, heavy to killing frost in early morning."

Riverside growers reporting a minimum temperature of 31 degrees, said that there was no damage there. The wind was overcast all night and the sky was overcast. Growers smudged for lemons.

Lowest at Redlands

Santa Ana growers reported smudging was resorted to only in a few instances in that vicinity. The temperature dropped to 31 degrees by 6 o'clock and had fallen to 27 degrees by 7:20 a. m. The sun then made it unnecessary for smudging.

PACIFIC AVENUE P.-T. A. IN MEET

Patriotism and Child Welfare
Will Be on the Program at Next Meeting

The regular January meeting of the Pacific Avenue Parent-Teacher association, of which Mrs. Mae Rosenberg is president, will be held at the school yesterday afternoon, at which time report was made of the bazaar given in December, showing $150 cleared.

Reports of various chairmen and officers were given. Mrs. Rosenberg announced the first district meeting to be held at Venice next Thursday at the Martha Washington school. The February meeting of the Pacific avenue organization will be a combination of a patriotic and child welfare program.

The program for yesterday included a talk by Mrs. A. A. Barton on "The Constructive Mother," in which she compared the building of the child's character with the construction of a building. Violin numbers by Miss Linkogel, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Pearl Curran, were very much enjoyed. The bird cage was awarded to the fifth grade and second grade for having the most mothers present at the meeting.

S. C. Wheeler Builds Home of New Features

Contractor S. C. Wheeler is now building a new home for himself at 1125 East Harvard street which he reports will contain a number of interesting features. One of them is the use of the colonnade effect in interior finishing to ornament the built-in buffet and the mantel. The color scheme of the kitchen, bedrooms and bathrooms is gray and white. The floor in the bathroom is green woodstone. The Murphy beds are arranged in novel ways. The laundry is being installed in the garage which is convenient to the rear of the house.

Two duplexes with four apartments are being built by Mr. Wheeler in the rear court. These are designed and finished to comply with the plans in his own home. They will have garages, also.

R. BELCHER BOUND OVER

R. Belcher, who was freed by a jury in Judge F. H. Lowe's court yesterday on a charge of disturbing the peace, has been bound over to the Superior court, it being alleged he resisted Police Captain Thomas McGuire.

VERY LITTLE LOSS BY COLD IN GLENDALE, IS REPORT OF OFFICIALS

Slight damage was done by the frost in Glendale and vicinity over night. Several irrigation stands were reported to P. Diederich, superintendent of plant production, public service department, as having burst after the freeze.

Several three-quarter inch pipes outside of houses were stopped up with ice this morning, he added, but he does not believe any pipes in homes burst as a result of the freeze.

Smudge pots were brought into play by the citrus culturists while gardeners say some of the more delicate plants were nipped by Jack Frost. Early vegetables in the Los Angeles river bottom were given a set back, but the sunshine of today is expected to revive a lot of vegetation.

It takes four hours of hard frost to effectually damage trees or hardy plants, it is said. This Glendale and Southern California has not had since the winter of 1912-1913.

LOTS OF HAPPINESS IS BROUGHT OUT BY ROTARIANS

Excellent Entertainment Given Members of Organization at Luncheon Yesterday

Entertainment equal to a cabaret was provided for members of the Rotary club at their luncheon yesterday noon, Vaughan and Emerick, recently of the syncretized Yama Yama Boys, an Orpheum act, played and sang during the dinner while Arthur Coit, a Cleveland, Ohio, Rotarian, told stories as only a chautauqua director knows how to do.

As a fitting finale, Arthur and Alta Wells of this city, widely known for their concert tours, provided three numbers, in which Mr. Wells demonstrated his ability to musically manipulate the banjo with Mrs. Wells accompanying him.

Both of them sang a bit and sent the Rotarians back to their afternoon's business glad for the mid-day respite and jollification. Francis J. W. Henry led the singing of "America."

Newspaper Business

Following reports of committees, Chairman C. C. Cooper called upon G. H. A. Cowan, city editor of The Glendale Evening News, for a brief talk on the newspaper business. Service, speed and accuracy are terms typical of a newspaper man's work, the Rotarians were told.

Mr. Coit solemnly said that he had journeyed to southern California with only the sciatica on his hip. He intends to divorce it, having heard this is a good climate for divorcees. Then he told of an old gentleman who was hard of hearing who attended all of the poorer lectures because he didn't miss so much. That was a big laugh.

Advice to Lecturers
"My advice to lecturers," he confided, "is to stand up to be seen, speak so as to be heard and shut up to be appreciated."

Recounting his trip to Europe last year he told of an elderly lady whose hearing was poor, but she had gained her education from hearsay. When they spoke about landing at Liverpool, she said:

"As far as I am concerned, I can only say I am glad to get my feet on vice versa once again."

Her daughter sought to correct the misspoken words and said:

"No, mother, you mean terra cotta!"

This was followed by some well-known Scotch tales, and, in conclusion, a vote of thanks was extended all of the entertainers.

Edwin R. Sorver to Be Banquet Speaker

Edwin R. Sorver, vice-president of the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce and director of the Vocational Guidance and Placement bureau of that city, has been secured as an additional speaker for the banquet to be given by the Business and Professional Women's club of Glendale at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium January 24. He will tell of the practical side of the bureau as it has been worked out in Pasadena.

ARTHUR MERRYS HOSTS

Miss Claire Allison and Miss Bon-Mason of Los Angeles were recent visitors in this city, where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Merry of West Milford street. Both Miss Allison and Miss Mason are former residents of Minneapolis, Minn., where they were neighbors of Mrs. Merry.

EARL BROWN ON VISIT

Earl T. Brown, head of the science department of the Glendale high school, was absent from his duties at the local institution yesterday, it being his annual "visiting day." Most of the day was spent at the Chaffey Union high school in Ontario, where he inspected the chemistry and physics laboratories.

COUNCIL IS IN FAVOR OF AUTO LINE TO LOS ANGELES

J. E. Worthington to Start Service; Gets Good Will
of City Officials

Backed in his plans by the Glendale city council, J. E. Worthington of 1510 1/2 South San Fernando Road, proposes to establish a passenger bus service between Central avenue and Stocker street, Casa Verdugo, through Glendale to Sixth and Figueroa streets, Los Angeles.

Mr. Worthington states that he has the verbal consent of property owners where he will maintain stands and his next two moves will be to obtain the Los Angeles city council's approval of his plan and then get a franchise from the state railroad commission.

To Increase Service

At first he will put one five-passenger bus in service, but as soon as the route is established he will have two large cars operating on a thirty-minute schedule. The line will operate through Glendale on Central avenue, two blocks from the Pacific Electric, thus developing its own trade.

According to Mr. Worthington he will be able to furnish transportation at 15 cents each way and cut the running time over the electric cars by fifteen minutes. In view of the recent raise in fares, and other matters which City Attorney Bert P. Woodward has attacked in a complaint now before the railroad commission, it is probable that the bus line will meet with favor.

Favor Jitney Bus Owners

The city council last night showed its sympathy for jitney bus owners by reducing the license fee from $40 a year to $10, the action being unanimous and at the suggestion of Councilman Sam Davis.

Councilman Davis also urged that the bond of the jitney drivers be cut from $10,000 to $5,000 and he received the support of Councilman Kimlin and Mayor Robinson in this. Councilmen Lapham and Stephenson voting against the plan. The two councilmen declared that $5,000 was not enough protection, but Councilman Davis argued it "is a lot more than you could get out of the Pacific Electric, with all of its high-priced lawyers."

BRIDE-ELECT IS GUEST OF HONOR

Miss Leone Shattuck, Soon to Wed, Entertained by Miss Coral E. Griffith

Miss Coral E. Griffith of 1321 Valley View Road entertained Wednesday night in honor of Miss Leone Shattuck and B. O. Kiefer, who are soon to be married, with a 5 o'clock dinner party.

The house was beautifully decorated, the dining room being a veritable fairy land. Here festoons of pink were used. Pink butterflies suspended from the ceiling and pale pink sweet peas centered the table. The place cards were hand-painted brides and bridegrooms. The color scheme of pink was also carried out in the nut baskets.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Shattuck, Miss Leone Shattuck, Miss Laura Roberts, Miss Helen Van de Carr of Detroit, E. O. Kiefer, Frank Kiefer, F. J. Griffith, G. W. Calkins and the hostess, Miss Coral Griffith. The evening was spent in music and games.

Mrs. E. Hoskyn Hostess to Missionary Meeting

The members of the Isabel-Jackson group of the Women's Home Missionary Society of the First Methodist church met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. Hoskyn, 234 North Jackson street. At that time reports were made by the president, Mrs. Geiger. The name of the group was also changed from Isabel-Jackson to Lucy Webb Hayden. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in piecing quilts for one of the homes in which the society is interested.

Mattison B. Jones Goes to San Diego

Mattison B. Jones of Highland avenue and Kenneth Road, grand high priest of the grand chapter of Royal Arch Masons of the state of California, and several members of the Glendale chapter, left by automobile this morning for San Diego, where Mr. Jones will install the officers of the Royal Arch chapter of that city this evening and also at El Centro tomorrow night.

COLONIAL CONCERT IS PRESENTED BY MADRIGAL CLUB

Very Pretty Picture Is Made on Stage; Suitable Program
Heartily Received

The colonial concert given last night at the High School auditorium by the Madrigal club was enjoyed by a very appreciative audience comprised of a large number of music lovers of Glendale, who have looked forward to the event with pleasant anticipation. The club may well feel highly gratified by the signal success of this, the most elaborate program it has undertaken, and the first during the administration of the recently elected officers.

The stage presented one of the prettiest of tableaux, with stiff boxed shrubs at the sides, and the members of the club in powdered wigs, quaint and wonderfully becoming costumes of material in bright floral patterns, made with the long basque effect and hip panniers, over white, "Old Colonial" down to the "silver buckles on their shoes." They were very much like originals of wonderful full portraits of the dames of old colonial days.

Program Well Received

The program under the direction of Mrs. Charles A. Parker, was splendidly rendered and received with well merited applause, from the opening number by the club, the duet and quartette, the beautiful violin selections, so perfectly executed, by Mrs. Welcome, who made such a beautiful picture in the cleverly manipulated spotlight, that she reminded some of the audience of the painting of an old miniature, down to the minutest, which, sung by the quartette and danced by others, in the spotlight, was one of the very prettiest numbers that has ever been put on a program by any club in Glendale.

Old fashioned nosegays were presented to the soprano soloist, Mrs. Freeman, the director, Mrs. Parker, the accompanist, Mrs. Wright, and the violinist, Mrs. Welcome. The use of the Knabe piano was donated to the club for the evening by the Loomis-Schuck Music company. (Continued on Page 13.)

Today's World News In Brief (By International News Service to Glendale Evening News)

RICHARD CROKER IS REPORTED TO BE NEAR DEATH
DUBLIN, Jan. 20.—Richard Croker, former leader of Tammany Hall in New York city, who is seriously ill at his home at Glencairn Castle, was rapidly sinking this afternoon and friends feared the end was near.

SHOT WHEN HE RESISTS RAID IN HOME BY ARMED MEN
BELFAST, Jan. 20.—Armed men raided the home of Hugh Kelly early today and shot him through the body when he resisted. Later troops from the garrison dispersed a mob at the point of the bayonet, arresting two ringleaders. Soldiers and police searched many houses in the Fall road district for arms.

HIGHWAYMEN TAKE WEARING APPAREL, JEWELRY, CASH

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 20.—Two bandits held up Mr. and Mrs. Fred V. Griffith and Mrs. M. G. West in front of Mrs. West's home early today and escaped with $2642 in wearing apparel, jewelry and cash. After taking two diamond rings valued at $475 from Mrs. West, they ordered her to hand over her $2000 mink coat.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER GIVE BIRTH TO DAUGHTERS

EL VERANO, Cal., Jan. 20.—Mrs. A. Chileni, wife of an El Verano farmer, and Mrs. Enrico Castagnasso, mother of Mrs. Chileni, today gave birth to daughters almost simultaneously. Little Miss Chileni, having preceded little Miss Castagnasso into the world by a few seconds, will enjoy the distinction of being older than her aunt.

POPE IN STATE OF COMA, DEATH NEAR, PHYSICIANS FEAR

ROME, Jan. 20.—(4 p. m.)—Pope Benedict XV lost consciousness this evening. He is now in a state of coma. The attending physicians fear death is at hand. The pontiff had been sinking all day due to heart weakness and inflammation of the lungs but retained consciousness until the afternoon. All preparations had been made for death while the pope was conscious. Suffering from pneumonia, inflammation of the throat and high fever, the pontiff sank rapidly during the day, but up to this afternoon, had retained consciousness. The attending physicians did not attempt to disguise from the stricken prelate the seriousness of his condition. After the resident cardinals had been summoned to the vatican and Cardinal Giorgi had recited the prayer for the dying, the pope's lips were seen to be moving. The attendants bending over the bed heard the pontiff, in a weak and muffled voice, praying fervently. He clasped an ivory crucifix in his hands.

CHINA BEGINS FINAL FIGHT TO GET REVIEW OF DEMANDS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—China today began a "last ditch" fight to compel the Washington conference to review the famous twenty-one demands. Defeated thus far in every attempt they had made in this direction despite the support of the United States, the Chinese now are pinning their hopes on the last item on the Chinese program: "Status of existing commitments." Under this heading the Chinese see their last opportunity to obtain a review of the concessions which Japan wrung from China in 1915 while the attention of the world was riveted on the European war. Unless they are successful or partially so, the Chinese threaten to refuse to sign or become a party to the (Continued on page 3)

REV. E. B. BACHUS SPEAKER AT CLUB

'Social Psychology' Subject of Address at Studio of Mrs.
J. F. Hartzell

About fifty members of the Thursday afternoon club were present yesterday afternoon at the studio of Mrs. J. F. Hartzell, corner of Brand boulevard and Laurel street, at the monthly social gathering of the organization.

Rev. E. B. Bachus, pastor of the Unitarian church of Los Angeles, was the principal speaker of the meeting, his subject being "Social Psychology." Rev. Bachus is known throughout southern California for his knowledge of psychology and is declared to be one of the leading authorities on the subject in the state.

Following Rev. Bachus' address a short business session was held, after which several beautifully rendered vocal solos were presented by Mrs. R. Darling. The remainder of the afternoon was enjoyed in the regular social gathering.

The program was in charge of Mrs. A. L. Bancroft and Mrs. Kemper Campbell, while the regularly appointed "hostesses" for the affair included Mrs. Carrie Campbell, Mrs. J. F. Montzer and Mrs. S. Storer.

AMERICAN LEGION BANQUET TONIGHT

Newly Elected Officers Will Be in Charge of Post's
First Annual Dinner

More than 150 members and friends of Glendale Post No. 127, American Legion, are expected to be present tonight at the Chamber of Commerce building, when the newly elected officers will be in charge of the post's first annual "get together" banquet and entertainment.

In order to insure a successful gathering for the affair the regular weekly business meeting of the organization has been postponed until next Friday night.

Following the banquet, which will take place at 6:45 o'clock, addresses will be given and a number of musical features will conclude the evening's entertainment.

Mayor Spencer Robinson and members of the city council were formally invited to attend the banquet at last night's meeting of the council and accepted.

Colonel James W. Everington, Los Angeles' chief of police, has arranged for Mayor Spencer Robinson, and Harry Girard to sing for the boys while John Marquot, world famed violinist, will offer several selections. Other surprise features are planned.

Glendale Folk Attend Installation Services

Among the residents of Glendale who attended the installation of officers of Helen Jean Christie Tent, Daughters of Veterans, in Los Angeles last night, were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Danner, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hall, Miss Audrey Hall and Joe Billington of Mary Jane Gillette Tent No. 18, and Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Henry, Mr. and Mrs. William Howell, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Clark and Robert Taylor of N. P. Banks Post, G. A. R., and the Women's Relief Corps.

CITY'S EDUCATIONAL PLANT APPRAISED AT LARGE SUM

Facts and Figures on All
Grammar and Elementary Schools Given Out

Nearly half a million dollars in capital is tied up in the grammar school system of Glendale.

Almost three-quarters of a million dollars will be invested in the elementary schools of this city when the $260,000 appropriated at the last bond election has been expended.

At the present time the total amount is $467,050.

School real estate is valued at $118,000. That is, it was appraised at that figure last June. Just how much greater its market value is today is unknown.

For the purpose of adjusting the insurance on the school buildings J. D. Hibben, chairman of the board of trustees, and R. E. White, superintendent of schools, have been examining the policies carried on the school property.

The present appraised value of the school buildings is $308,000 and their equipment $41,050 or a total of $349,050. Insurance now totals $205,275. After further deliberation, this amount will be raised considerably. Mr. White was unable to state exactly how much, but declared yesterday afternoon that it would probably be in the neighborhood of $50,000.

Intermediate Is First

The premium paid for this insurance amounts to 25 cents a year per thousand on the semi-proof structures and 30 cents for the other school houses.

The intermediate school represents the largest investment. In spite of depreciation, Superintendent R. D. White estimates that this building is worth more than when erected on account of the increased cost of materials. Consequently, he appraises the building at $75,000 and its furnishings at $10,000. The total insurance carried on this school is $49,000.

MEN'S GYM CLASS TO MEET TUESDAY

Setting Up Exercises, Also Sports, Will Be Feature of First Program

Enthusiasm was the principal feature of the get-together conference last night at the high school to discuss a business men's gym class. A. L. Ferguson, vice-principal of the night school, welcomed the men to the high school and Coach Howard L. Butterfield explained the splendid facilities for exercise provided by the school gymnasium.

Announcement was made that the "athletes" at the Ford agency, the Bentley-Schoeneman Lumber company, the Tropico Potteries and the Fox-Woodsum Lumber company were all interested and might have the privilege of organizing competing volleyball, indoor baseball or basketball teams.

Next Tuesday night at 7 o'clock the class will meet in the gymnasium for setting up exercises and sports.

Dr. Cortland Myers Tells of World Hope

Dr. Cortland Myers at the Presbyterian church last night spoke on "Jesus Christ the Same, Yesterday, Today and Forever."

"There are not many expressions about Him so freighted with meaning as this one," declared Rev. Myers. "Think of the changes in everything we know, concerning humanity and even the earth itself! Is there something in absolute contrast to all this change? Nothing but our relation to Christ. Just what He was to Peter He is yet to you."

"And He is the same in His unlimited power. We think we know these days about power. But Christ has in His single hand all there is of power; He made it all. We need only read the Bible just as it says, 'All power is given unto Him.' The great things are ahead for us who believe. We have not believed enough."

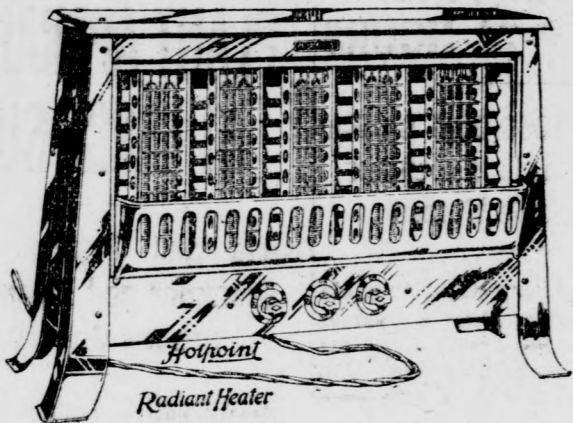

"And Christ is the same in His eternal purpose. His program is the same. There are people who refuse to sing of the blood of the cross, but we will still believe in them. They are the world's only hope. His continual purpose is to seek and save the lost—that's the music of the gospel. The human heart everywhere responds to it. How much we ought to do for Him."

Letter of Thanks Is Sent to City Council

A letter of commendation was received last night by the city council from residents residing in the vicinity of the Verdugo wash, complimenting the flood control work on the Ross ranch.

Mayor Robinson questioned whether the kind words were intended for the council or some other organization.

Rob W. C. Smith Home While Family Is Away

W. C. Smith early last night reported the robbery of his home at 328 West Milford street during the afternoon. Entry was gained through the back door which was left unlocked while the family was away. The loot included a woman's hunting case, Waltham watch, a silver wrist watch, three rings and a string of "Sea Island" pearls.

GLEN INN OPENING WILL TAKE PLACE SATURDAY NIGHT

Efficient People in Charge of Modern Establishment; Plan for Dinner Dance

For weeks the people of Glendale have waited for the opening of Glen Inn, the "eats, sweets, treats" establishment in the Citizens' Building, directly below the Chamber of Commerce headquarters. Today P. H. Dunning and F. Y. Edmonds announce that their well appointed establishment will open for inspection Saturday night, January 21, while a dinner dance will be given in the banquet hall on the second floor. An orchestra and cafe service will make this affair delightfully pleasing to the residents of Glendale who seek such relaxation and it is planned to make dinner dances regular week-end events.

Sunday from 12 to midnight will find the Glen Inn open for business with a special Sunday dinner as the attraction extraordinary. Louis Husbando, for many years the head chef for the Fred Harvey system and more recently chief chef for the Tuisa Hotel in the Oklahoma oil city, will be in charge of the culinary department and already he has demonstrated his ability to the business men of this city.

All For Efficiency
A trip through the establishment is a little premature, for the fixture men are still busy, but it will give one a good idea of the comprehensiveness of Glen Inn. In the front there are the usual display windows, plate glass, candy cases, etc., and the comfortable "appointment logs" for parties to assemble to the extent of twenty-five people.

On the right side as you pass to the dining room will be found the cigar and candy cabinets and on the left is the model soda fountain and quick lunch equipment with steam tables and everything ready to serve the busy business man. There will be seats for twelve at the fountain. The dining room will seat 125 comfortably at one time—the largest capacity of anything in Glendale of its kind. The latest seatables, dosados and deuces with tete-a-tete chairs are being installed today. These can hardly be described in words, but a visit will convince you they are all they are claimed and more. Two large sedans for family parties will be found in the rear. The lighting includes floor stand lamps, polychrome ceiling fixtures and wall brackets. The Saunders Paint company had Jacob Pink do the stippled walls while the wood fixtures in the front are of creosote walnut and French gray in the rear, trimmed in polychrome.

Kitchen Is Revelation
The kitchen in which Louie will preside is a revelation and at all times the public is welcomed to inspect the place. Four chefs will be employed and seven assistants and twelve waitresses in uniform kept busy while two fountain clerks will complete the personnel.

Just to give an inkling as to the kitchen equipment, there are two sterilizers which will wash every dish, one complete range, one complete "dry" range, waffle irons, steam table, etc. All the bakery goods will be home made, the work of Louie in the Citizens' company kitchen on the second floor. A stock room is built in over the rest rooms. An automatic refrigerating plant will keep all of the edibles crisp and fresh.

Will Have Only Best
Mr. Edmonds' experience as manager for the Paulais catering establishment in Los Angeles has proved to him that people in southern California will have only the best. So he has arranged with George E. Clayton for the cream and milk from his pure-bred Jersey herd. The Hughes company will furnish special ice creams and it is stated that within ten days Glen Inn will be able to offer a catering service for parties, weddings, etc., equal to any in Los Angeles.

While the formal opening of the Inn is tomorrow night, that does not mean it is a formal affair—that evening dress is necessary. On the contrary it will be a jolly gathering of Glendale folk and people from out of town, nothing formal about it.

Richard S. Todd to Attend Salesmen's Meet

Richard S. Todd of 416 North Maryland avenue expects to leave Glendale tomorrow for Detroit, Mich., where he will attend the annual salesmen's convention of the J. B. Port chemical company. Mr. Todd, who has been in the employ of the company for several years, is its California-Arizona representative. Following the convention, which will be concluded about February 1, Mr. Todd will visit a number of eastern and middle western cities and towns before returning to Glendale. On his return trip several weeks will be spent at the Arizona headquarters of the firm, he planning to arrive here about March 1.

Congregational C. E. Elects Stillman Chase

A good attendance was present last night at the dinner and business meeting of the Young People's Christian Endeavor Society of the Congregational church, at which time the following officers were elected: Stillman Chase, president; Ethel Oliver, secretary; and Sarah McClure, treasurer.

William A. Howe Offers Bargain Bill at Glendale Today

William A. Howe offers a bargain bill at the Glendale Theatre tonight in the way of film attractions. Besides the feature there will be a hilarious Harold Lloyd comedy called "Rainbow Island," a Pathe Review, Mutt and Jeff comes and "The Deputies" Double Cross—surely a program full of fun.

A most amusing and absorbing play of life and big events in a small town is "Clay Dollars," Eugene O'Brien's Selznick picture which opened yesterday at the Glendale Theatre and held over today. There is the town "dude," the town "villain," the village comedian, and all the other characters so well known and enjoyed by theatregoers. But most of all there is the town hero, this time played by Eugene O'Brien, who has to go through many trying situations before he comes out on top and wins June Gordon, the village belle. His trials and tribulations make up a most interesting little comedy drama that is like a vacation trip to the country, it is so refreshing.

5-CENT FARE FOR STUDENT

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—The Pacific Electric company has notified the railroad commission that the fare for students attending the University of California in Los Angeles would be made 5 cents per ride.

This action followed a request made by the commission to the company, after the board of regents had asked that special student transportation rates be extended to university students.

Under the rates as now fixed by the Pacific Electric company, school children traveling between points within the six-cent street car zone are charged a rate of 3 cents per ride in the form of a limited ticket.

LARGE FEET EXPENSIVE

MARTINS FERRY, Ohio.—Large feet are a joke no longer. They are an expensive luxury. Local shoe dealers have been notified that extra charge will be made on men's shoes above the twelve size and on women's larger than eights.

CREDIT BUREAU MOVES

The Glendale Merchants' Credit association has moved to Room 2, Citizens Building, one room from where it was located. The telephone, secretary, stenographer, etc., are not the least bit disturbed by the change, according to genial Frank H. Pilling.

DR. C. L. JOHNSON IS HERE

Dr. C. L. Johnson and family of Denver, Colo., were in Glendale on Thursday looking over prospective home sites. Dr. Johnson is temporarily living with friends in Los Angeles.

Misfortune Comes to Him in Double Dose

Misfortune is said to come in cycles. More of it in motors, says Virgil Pool, chiropractor, with offices at 209 1/2 South Brand boulevard.

Last night his machine was smashed by a Pacific Electric car at Broadway and Adams streets, which, he states, was without a headlight.

After the wreck a motorcycle policeman held him for speeding more than fifteen miles an hour. Pool paid Judge F. H. Lowe $10 this morning.

MORE LIBERAL LAW! TAX CHANGES FOR 1922 EXPLAINED

Exemption Raised to $2,500 on Income of Wedded Folk
If Less Than $5,000

More liberal income tax exemptions for married persons and the requirement that a return shall be made in 1922 of gross income of $5000 or more during 1921 is explained in a statement by an official of the Internal Revenue Service.

"The act provides that a married person living with husband or wife whose net income for 1921 was $5,000 or less shall be allowed a personal exemption of $2500. If the net income for such person was over $5000 the exemption is $2000," the statement says. "Under the Revenue Act of 1918 the personal exemption allowed a married person was $2000, regardless of the amount of net income. The normal tax rate remains unchanged, 4 per cent on the first $4000 of net income above the exemptions and 8 per cent on the remaining net income.

Not to Increase Net

"In order that an income slightly in excess of $5000 shall not be subjected to an inordinately disproportionate tax because of the reduction of the exemption to $2000 thereon, the law provides that such reduction shall not operate to increase the amount of the net income in excess of $5000.

"For example, on a net income of $5100 the tax without this saving clause would be $120.40, which is 4 per cent on $3100, the amount of net income less an exemption of $2000. The actual tax is $110.40, computed as follows: From the net income of $5010 is deducted $2500, leaving $2510, the 4 per cent tax on which amounts to $100.40. To this is added $10, the amount of net income in excess of $5,000."

"The personal exemptions allowed married persons apply also to the head of a family, a person who supports in the household one or more relatives by blood, marriage or adoption.

New Rule on $5000 Gross

"Heretofore a person whose net income was less than his exemption ($1000 if single or $2000 if married), was not required to file a return. Under the Revenue Act of 1921 if the gross income of an individual equalled or exceeded $5000 or if the combined gross income of a married couple and that of dependent minor children equalled or exceeded $5000, or if the combined gross income of a married couple and that of dependent minor children equalled or exceeded $5000, a return must be filed regardless of the amount of net income.

"Net income" is a gross income less certain deductions. The fact that allowable deductions from gross income for business expenses, losses and bad debts may reduce the net income to an amount below the personal exemptions of $1000 or $2000 does not alter the requirement to file a return, if such a gross income equalled or exceeded $5000."

Girl Mayor Outlines Platform on Marriage

FAIRPORT, O., Jan. 20.—Dr. Amy Kaukonen, pretty girl mayor, today outlined her platform regarding love and marriage in an exclusive interview with the International News Service.

Each day brings a sheaf of letters and telegrams, she says, containing marriage proposals ranging from the plain, ambitious youths "to help fight the bootleggers" to a correctly phrased note which bears the coat-of-arms of a fine old Boston family and requests the fair mayor to "become my honored wife."

"I believe in only one kind of marriage," Dr. Kaukonen declared, "the marriage that is the natural result of true love."

Marriage and a successful career may go hand in hand.

"The man's salary is a minor detail depending on the girl's tastes—I should expect a man to earn $10,000 a year—at the very least."

Hinting that perhaps she, too, is cherishing the ideal of a "not impossible" man—who will some day come riding into the dawn of her womanhood like the prince in the fairy tale, the pretty mayor reveals some of her more romantic musings on the subject.

"I think the love of Dante for Beatrice the ideal sort of love—this type of love will last always, even after death, forever and ever until the last star goes out."

The recipient of more love missives and "mash notes" than even the most popular chorus beauty, Fairport's "fighting mayor" told with a whimsical smile of one man who telegraphed after three desperate letters—"if I fail to get a favorable reply from you by next Tuesday, I shall jump off Brooklyn bridge."

"I wired back, 'why wait until Tuesday?'"

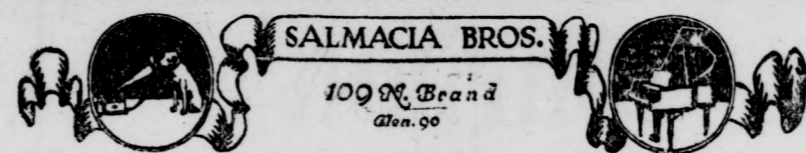

"An unsophisticated youth inquires 'if there would be any chance of going on raids with you and sampling the liquor.' This boy confides that he is the perfect mate for the 'anti-bootleg mayor' because he has taken a correspondence course in all manner of detecting.

"I made it a rule to ignore these spoony missives for I believe 99 per cent of them are tommyrot and nonsense," the mayor said with no little emphasis.

A well-formed life is of more moment than the best-formed statue ever chiseled.

Power comes from ability, intelligently and persistently applied.

Fatally Poisoned by Woman, Trial Charge

HUTCHINSON, Kans., Jan. 20.—A strange story of poisoned cupcakes and poisoned gruel, fed to George V. Barnes until he died, will be related in court here in the murder trial of Mrs. Maude Yargus-Barnes, which opened yesterday. It was expected the jury will be completed by tonight.

The woman, who for six years lived with Barnes as his common-law wife, married him six hours before he died. It is charged she mixed arsenate of lead in his food to cause his death, in order that she and her first husband, Roy A. Yargus of Hannibal, Mo., could enjoy his wealth.

Barnes died September 29 last, and investigation revealed that he had been slowly poisoned to death, first by eating cupcakes which contained the arsenate of lead and later, when he was seriously ill, by partaking of gruel containing the poison.

Mrs. Yargus-Barnes was arrested and later evidence was unearthed which led to the arrest of her former husband and he was charged with complicity in the crime.

HELP FOR FARMERS WILL BE SOUGHT AT CONFERENCE

Important Questions Will Be Considered at Gathering
Called by Harding

By U. S. Press Association.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 20.—Remedial measures to meet the present farm situation and laying down of a permanent policy for development of a self-sustaining agriculture are expected to result from the national agricultural conference under the direction of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, acting upon the request of President Harding.

Farmers and representatives of correlated lines interested in farmers' products will make up the personnel of the conference, which it was said, would number between 100 and 110. Farmers' organizations, manufacturers of farmers' products, transportation interests, marketing agencies, shipping interests, fertilizer makers, farm implement manufacturers, packers, state agricultural and state agricultural college representatives, cotton, grain, live stock, fruit, commission men, experts on rural social problems, and bankers, are expected to be included in the membership of the conference.

An official of the Agricultural Department asserts that the conference in finding measures for relieving the distress of the farmer would at the same time be reviving business of all lines through restoration of the farmers' purchasing powers.

Questions of transportation, agricultural financing, utilization of land resources, forestry, policies on land leasing, which would include contracts and rents, various aspects of marketing, including statistics, warehousing and terminal developments and rural social life, in the opinion of the Agricultural Department officials, probably would be on the program of the conference.

Policies respecting more efficient production and involving control of animal and plant diseases, it is thought, will evolve from the conference deliberations. This would include a new national policy for fighting the boll weevil, which worked such disastrous results in many sections of the cotton belt last year, and for the eradication of the corn borer, which has appeared on the edge of the corn belt.

Money and Investments

"The credit situation is vastly better than it was a year ago, owing chiefly to liquidation in commercial and industrial centers," says a statement of The National City Bank of New York, which adds: "Liquidation has proceeded slowly in the agricultural territory, but the borrowing between reserve banks has ceased, each reserve institution being now square on its own feet. The reserve percentages are high, and this has occasioned some criticism, but they are due more to a growth of reserve than to a reduction of liabilities. The interest rate is down now at all the reserve banks to not more than 5 per cent. As to the demand for money, a distinction must be made between money wanted to pay old debts and money wanted for new purposes. There is a great demand for the former purpose, but very little demand for the latter. There is no reason for adding to the productive capacity of the industries while the existing capacity is largely idle. The readjustments in industry will have to be completed before the demand for new capital for development purposes will revive.

"Meanwhile industrial companies continue to borrow by means of bonds for the purpose of clearing up bank indebtedness and providing for prospective needs. This policy is contributing to increasing ease in the banking situation. An issue of $30,000,000 of 98 and one-half per cent debentures as authorized by the American Sugar Refining company is one of the important recent issues of this class."

Forecasts Prosperity

Indications that the turn of the year is being "marked by a striking improvement in the business and economic outlook" of the country and the world generally were discussed by Controller of the Currency Crissinger in a forecast for 1922. There can be no doubt Mr. Crissinger said, that "the political and economic index of figures" are registering improvement at this time "which political and economic conditions so intimately interact."

"Taking this wider view," he added, "I feel that we may be justified in regarding the outlook as altogether reassuring, and that the new year is coming to us with guarantees that justify the most optimistic forecasts."

Iron Ore Produced in 1921

The iron ore mined in the United States in 1921, exclusive of that which contained more than 5.5 per cent of manganese, is estimated at 29,547,000 gross tons, a decrease of 56 per cent as compared with the output in 1920. The shipments of ore from the mines in 1921 are estimated at 27,005,000 gross tons, valued at $89,688,000, a decrease in quantity of 61 per cent and in value of nearly 69 per cent as compared with the shipments of 1920. The average value of the ore per gross ton at the mines for the whole United States in 1921 is estimated at $3.32; in 1920 it was $4.11. The stocks of iron ore at the mines, mainly in Michigan and Minnesota, apparently increased from 11,378,794 gross tons in 1920 to 13,873,000 tons in 1921, or 22 per cent. The output of iron ore in 1921 was the lowest since 1904, when 27,644,330 tons was mined.

Ambition is like electricity—useful when properly controlled, dangerous when uncontrolled.

To go forward is important. To go straight is more important.

"The Line Is Busy"

When the telephone operator tells you "the line is busy," this fact has been made known to her by an electric signal. With the thousands of calls in daily telephone traffic, if the operator, to secure this information, were compelled to listen on the line of the party called, prompt service would be out of the question.

This delay is eliminated by an electric device which in the fraction of a second automatically indicates that the line called for is in use.

When "busy" reports are repeated on successive calls for the same number, it is generally due to an immoderate use of the called line. The length of a telephone conversation is obviously beyond the control of the telephone operator. Have confidence in her when she makes the report "the line is busy."

The Pacific Telephone

"When a woman has no heart, don't lead one or she'll trump it," warns the philosophical bridge expert.

People first abandon reason and then become obstinate; and the deeper they are in error the more angry they are.—Blais.

Get your motives, your principles, your ambitions right, and nothing can utterly daunt you. Inward strength will succor and sustain you.

CAMPAIGN TO OWN OWN HOME WILL START FEB. 15

State Realty Board to Be Behind Project; Governor
Talks at Convention

A statewide "own your own home and build now" campaign will be conducted by the California Real Estate association beginning February 15 to meet the demands for homes in California. President Fred E. Reed, of the California Real Estate association, announced at the opening session of the association's seventeenth annual convention at Oakland yesterday.

"The California Real Estate association's statewide 'Own Your Own Home Campaign' will extend to every city with a real estate board," Reed declared in his annual report. "In every city the building of new homes and bringing in of new industries will tend to solve the unemployment problem. Two hundred and fifty thousand homes are needed in California to house present and new population. This is one-sixth of the nation's needs and when built will house 1,250,000 people in California, an increase of one-third in our state population."

Japanese Problem
President Reed declared in favor of a new taxation system for California. He said real property should bear its just proportion of the taxes and no more, and that personal property, and particularly personal income, should be called on for a fairer proportion of the taxes.

Thirty-four new realty boards were organized in California since the first of 1921, according to State Secretary-Treasurer Glenn D. Willman, in his annual report.

Governor William D. Stephens, one of the speakers, called the attention of the realtors to the pending soldiers' bonus legislation and the Japanese problem.

"Our state legislature at the last session passed appropriation bills amounting to $3,500,000 for assisting the veteran soldiers of California," said the governor.

For War Veterans
"In November, 1922, there will be upon every one's ballot a proposal to add seven millions to the three millions already appropriated, making in all a ten million dollar bond issue, all the proceeds of which are to be loaned to the soldier lads of California. It is your duty to help our men and your neighbor son, so I am asking all of you to go to the polls in November, 1922, and vote 'yes' on this proposal."

"Every realtor man in California should be interested in the proper solution of the great problem that confronts California and the whole nation. The so-called Japanese problem is a menacing one, but not impossible of solution."

"The realty men everywhere over the state can assist in solving this problem by educating their brother realtors beyond the Rocky mountains. When you talk to them, or when you write to them, tell the plain truth about this 'Japanese problem.' Educate the east, for education will get us the required vote in congress."

HELP FOR UNEMPLOYED

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—In order to enable the company to contribute toward the relief of seasonal unemployment, the railroad commission has granted permission to the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal railway to borrow from its depreciation fund a sum of $60,000, sufficient to employ 200 men for a period of about three months. The company announced that it desired to do ordinary and extraordinary maintenance work at this time.

This arrangement, it was explained, will improve the Oakland traction and the Key route system and at the same time give work to a large number of men during a period when it is difficult to find employment for unskilled labor.

Rommel Construction Company Is Completing Work Upon Polish Library Auditorium Building, South Park Avenue, Los Angeles

The Rommel Construction Company of 144-A South Brand boulevard, is completing work on the Polish Library Auditorium building at Fortieth street and South Park avenue in Los Angeles. The picture shows those attending the exercises at the cornerstone laying which were held recently. John Roman, well known in Glendale, is actively interested in the association's work which has as its purpose the education of the Polish people of Los Angeles and vicinity.

The Rommel Construction company, which is completing the Polish Library association auditorium pictured herewith, is in the midst of one of the most active building campaigns in the history of that concern which operates both in the south and southwest.

They are now completing a two-story brick block at the corner of Doran street and Brand boulevard for M. M. Gillespie which contains four stores and six apartments.

Three store rooms and ten garages are under way at Long Beach, three school houses are being built in Eagle Rock and the numerous contracts include a brick block for W. R. Bassell at Lexington drive and Brand boulevard; a similar building for S. Z. Walters at Maple and Brand, a one-story battery service for Mr. Walters at Chestnut and Brand to house the Penner-Doll company, a store and apartment building for Philip W. Parker on North Brand, a six-room stucco residence at 638 North Central avenue for Dr. Fay Stone, and a residence at 624 North Brand for P. W. Parker.

Approximately 300 men are employed by this concern which has its headquarters in the Glendale Shops building, 144-A South Brand boulevard.

Memorial Highways In France Proposed to Honor Hero Dead

WASHINGTON—A great system of highways in France, similar to the Lincoln highway in the United States, would be established to commemorate the dead of the American soldiers abroad, according to the terms of the resolution sponsored by Senator Willis (R.), of Ohio, and now in the hands of the Committee on Foreign Relations.

Suitable tablets and other memorials would be placed along these highways. These tablets would give the names of divisions engaged in the fighting at various places, would record victories and deeds of heroism and give other historical data for the information of future generations.

A memorial highway commission would be established by the bill, and this commission would administer the operation and maintenance of the memorial highways.

The principal object of the creation of the commission is to establish a memorial highway to facilitate access to the fields of operation of the World War in France and Belgium. The plan is sponsored by the American Scenic and Historic Preservation Society, which has suggested the following three routes:

Paris to Coblenz, Verdun to St. Mihiel, Toul and Metz.

Chateau-Thierry to Brussels. These suggested routes lead through or near the scenes of most of the major operations in which the American troops and the Allies took part and also near several principal American cemeteries in France and Belgium.

It has been suggested that at Coblenz there be erected two bronze tablets, one containing the roster of troops of the American operation and the other the roster of present American forces in Germany, after the style of the bronze tablets erected to commemorate the campaign of Santiago de Cuba and the China Relief Expedition.

The committee also has before it the suggestion that the memorial committee proposed include Myron T. Herrick, Ambassador to France; Brand Whitlock, Major-General Henry T. Allen, who commanded the first expeditionary forces in France; President Lowell, of Harvard University, and President Butler, of Columbia University.

Self-reliance is useless unless you have made yourself reliable.

LONDON FORGETS TO BE GAY; CHANGED RESULT OF WAR

City Goes to Bed at Early Hour; Defense of Realm Act Has Influence

Written for International News Service LONDON—This one-time metropolis of the world has forgotten how to be gay; it has lost its capacity for enjoyment. Midnight revels and supper parties are things of the past.

Restaurants and railroads report an extraordinary slump in patronage and declare London has been demoralized, hypnotized and broken-spirited by war-time restrictions. The city now deliberately chooses to go to bed at 11.

Six years ago the night life of London—its suppers, entertainments and dances—was one of its principal features. From 11 at night to 4 in the morning was the gayest period of the day. People came from afar for the pleasure of a few nights in the city.

And then, just six years ago, came the heavy hand of what was known as "Dora," otherwise the Defense of the Realm act. It was made illegal to obtain a drink after 9:30. Dancing was practically ruled out entirely after dark. Even restaurants had to shut at 10:30. Zeppelins and economy killed London's gay evenings.

Expected Big Boom

Three months ago, after three years of peace, the restrictions were lifted. It is now possible to get a drink in London until 12:30 and even up to 4 in the morning, in places specially favored. Champagne can now be drunk openly instead of out of cups, and it is no longer necessary to carry a pocket flask of whiskey. It seemed as though nothing stood in the way of Londoners reverting to their former habits.

At any rate, the restaurants, theatres and dancing places thought so. They laid all their plans for an orgy of enjoyment and expected a big boom. The "tubes," the subways of London, agreed with them and, instead of stopping their service at midnight, ran trains until 1:30. They had visions of a heavy post-midnight traffic.

All were wrong alike. Londoners had forgotten that there were such things as suppers after the theatres. They could not realize that late trains were permitted or that it was really legal to dance after midnight. The early-to-bed habit had grown too strong.

Late Traffic Is Light

Regretfully the tubes had to admit the fact. They have even counted the passengers leaving Piccadilly Circus—the heart of London—on four trains leaving in various directions at 12:50 a. m. On one there were twenty-two people, on another thirty-four, on the third thirteen and the fourth eleven. And each of these trains is scheduled to carry 800 people. No wonder that transportation authorities are debating whether late traffic is worth while.

Restaurants tell a similar story. At the Savoy hotel, in 1914, about 850 suppers used to be served nightly. Now the maximum is about 450. The same state of affairs occurs in all the other fashionable hotels and restaurants. Night life is still strange to London.

It may be that, under crushing taxation, everyone is hard-up. Perhaps war horrors and bureaucratic restrictions have knocked the gaiety out of London's heart. Whatever the cause, London is now a sadder place than many a second-rate provincial city.

MAN REGAINS HIS SCHOOL AUTHORITY HEALTH BY RIDES UPON BICYCLE HAS COMPLIMENT FOR GLENDALE

Charles Fuller Gates Tells of 'Death Sentence' and Then What Happens

The present automobile business is an offshoot of the bicycle trade. So says Charles Fuller Gates. Mr. Gates probably knows as much about bicycles as any other person in the world. He is known as "The Bicycle Missionary of America" and spends a large part of his time staging races throughout the west. The races staged at "Bill" Pfeiffer's Cycle shop at 110 South Maryland avenue this week were put on under his management. The summer of 1882, when the "bike" was still an infant, he took up cycling for exercise and sport and soon became an expert rider upon the cumbersome machines made in those days. Public interest in bicycles was developing during this decade and in 1891 Mr. Gates was invited to join the staff of the Detroit Free Press as its bicycle editor. Two years later he came west for his health and a place was made for him immediately upon the San Francisco Examiner. In 1895 a physician informed him that he had tuberculosis and gave him two months to live.

He Declines to Die Somehow, Mr. Gates refused to die. Six feet tall, broad shouldered and with an apparent physique which would put Bill Hart to shame, Mr. Gates today is a long way from being dead. He attributes his health entirely to bicycle riding. Before Glendale was the home of many real estate dealers, he came to Southern California, in 1895. The next few years were spent in enthusiastic cycling to all points of interest in this vicinity. Sometimes he would have violent fits of coughing and would be obliged to spend a portion of each day in bed. As his health began to return, however, he thought nothing of getting on his bicycle early in the evening near Los Angeles and riding all the way to Riverside, arriving there about 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning.

Walking Sitting Down Mr. Gates made his home in La Crescenta in 1900 and spent two winters up the little Tujunga canyon twelve miles from the postoffice at Tujunga. As his health began to return, however, he thought nothing of getting on his bicycle early in the evening near Los Angeles and riding all the way to Riverside, arriving there about 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning.

The Gates family now own an auto—maybe a couple of them. However, Mr. Gates still keeps a number of bicycles. For exercise he uses one of them to ride from his home to his garage. Altogether Mr. Gates estimates he has traveled 200,000 miles and worn out about thirty-four wheels.

Bicycle Man First "You can hardly put your hands on any big automobile man who was not first a bicycle man," declared Mr. Gates while in Glendale this week. "Every prominent automobile dealer in Los Angeles was first a bicycle man." And he commented upon the fact that a number of former bicycle factories have been converted into automobile plants. Among them is the Willis-Knight plant at Toledo where the well-known Cleveland bicycle was once made. Vitalic tires are now made in the factory at Erie, Pa., where the Tribune bicycle was assembled. C. A. Willys, one of Pasadena's millionaires, had a bike shop. Elmir, N. Y., during the halcyon days of cycling, and over in a little Connecticut town was another shop run by Henry Ford.

Don't Try to Holdup Local Postal Clerks

All clerks at the Glendale post-office who handle stamps, registered mail and other valuables, are now equipped with regulation .45 calibre army revolvers, this being a general order on the part of the postmaster general to effectively deal with mail bandits. They are instructed to shoot to kill.

If you do not believe the postal authorities mean business, watch them at their work with holsters filled with firearms.

John Rumford Guest at Guillemain Home

John Rumford of Portland, Ore., is a guest at the home of Frank Guillemain, 405 West Elk avenue this week. He is more than impressed with Glendale and hopes to make his home here. He called at the Chamber of Commerce and was entertained at the Rotary club luncheon yesterday afternoon.

A. C. Wheat, Assistant to Mark Keppel, Is Pleased With Local Institutions

A. C. Wheat, assistant to Mark Keppel, county superintendent of schools, was a visitor in Glendale yesterday and had only the highest compliments to pay the local institutions of learning.

"It is conceded that California schools are the best in the union," he said to a representative of The Glendale Evening News. "And everybody knows that Los Angeles county is the leader in the state from the standpoint of education. As a county official, who has been all over the various districts, I can truthfully say that Glendale is without a superior."

Pleased With Showing "I have watched the high school here ever since the district was organized and I must compliment George U. Moyle, the principal, on the fine lot of teachers he has here and the real spirit evinced by the pupils. Of course, Glendale realizes the crowded conditions facing the schools and I believe the district will solve its problem within two years. I am also pleased with the splendid showing of your grammar schools and Richardson D. White, city superintendent, is looked upon as a leader. The teaching personnel is of exceedingly high calibre from the study I have made. Glendale has reason to be proud of its schools."

Transfers of Service

The following requests for transfer of light and water service are on file in the public service department at the city hall: James E. High School Faculty Members Go Visiting Members of the high school faculty couldn't go south for the winter, but several of them are using the present cold spell to go visiting at other schools. Miss Dorothy B. Poppy, English teacher, visited Lincoln High school in Los Angeles; Miss Gertrude Ballard of the commercial department went to U. S. C. and Earl Z. Brown, head of the science department, went to Chaffee Union High school at Ontario.

GERMAN DOCUMENT REVEALS PLAN TO HURT INDUSTRY

Peaceful Destruction Proposed for Italy Is Scheme Told in Alleged Report

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
Written for International News Service
WASHINGTON—A sweeping campaign of "peaceful destruction" has been launched by Germany against the commercial life of Italy, it was learned from a secret document of the German Foreign Office.
The document, revealing Germany's plans for commercial aggression in Italy, was laid before the Armament Conference, it is said, and materially influenced the decision not to reduce the standing armies of Italy and France.

Revealed by the Italian government, the document is a report forwarded by Herr Stroheker, Commercial Counselor at the German Embassy in Rome, to the German Minister for Foreign Affairs at Berlin.
Here's German Plan
The German plan, according to the report, was:

First—To flood Italy with "made in Germany" goods at "below cost" prices, thus ruining competitors in Italy.

Second—To purchase Italian industries through Italian sources.

Third—To further discontent among political feudists in order to create political situations favoring Germany.

"The figures of German commerce in Italy show that after the armistice our traders were not inactive in reconquering the Italian market compared with France, England and the United States," began the report. "In order to create a favorable political situation for ourselves, taking advantage of the malcontents, a political situation which might in due course be favorable to us when Germany should be faced by fresh complications, it is necessary to strengthen this discontent in order to consolidate our situation through economic action."

The flooding of Italy with German goods was explained:

"First of all, it is necessary that a systematic supply of German goods be sent here, even below cost price, to a considerable extent. Inundat-ing the Italian market with German goods, we will not only have a place sympathetic to Germany, because Italian consumers gladly accept cheap articles, but we will also create a situation for Italian industry which will render any continuation of activity impossible."

In the dye industry, said the document, "it is necessary in order to follow the method of peaceful destruction advised by me," to prevent importation to Italy of outside coloring.

The report deals in detail with each industry, outlining the progress made under the general plan.

"Then we have at our disposal the Italian wealth of lignite," the report added. "The Italians do not know how to get the most out of this."

In closing, the counselor advised that the Deutsche Italienische Vereinigung should "continue to bring its influence to bear," in a campaign to force out the commerce of all other nations.

Texas Lawyer Cannot Reform U. S. Senators

WASHINGTON—It takes more than a Texas cow-puncher-lawyer to reform the habits of a committee of the United States Senate.

So Judge S. H. Cowan, former cattleman, now a lawyer of Fort Worth, Texas, found when he appeared before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee to argue a case on railroad rates.

When Judge Cowan appeared with two armfuls of documents he found two Senators present out of about twelve who should have been. Two wasn't a committee to the Texas.

"What I've got to say is too important to tell to just two Senators—I want the whole committee present," he announced.

So a second meeting was set for 9 o'clock the next morning and all members were notified to come and hear him.

Came 9 o'clock next day—likewise the Fort Worth judge with two armfuls of documents.

In the chair Judge Cowan found Senator Cummins, of Iowa, who is perhaps the most faithful member of the Senate in attending anything he is supposed to attend. But he was the only Senator present.

It was fifteen minutes before Senator Fernald, of Maine, took his seat to the right of the chairman.

"Reckon 9 a. m. is too early in the morning for Senators," remarked Judge Cowan.

"No—just habit," replied Senator Fernald. "If you put it at 10 o'clock they'd come straggling in here at 10:30."

By 10:30 Senator Watson, of Indiana, had taken his seat alongside the waiting committee witness. Then Senator LaFollette, of Wisconsin, bristled in, full of apologies.

ATWATER TRACT MAY GET OWN SCHOOL SOON, BELIEF

L. A. Board of Education to Have Facilities Ready
Shortly, Is Claimed

Children of the Atwater Tract, who are attending the Cerritos school because there is none closer, may have a school of their own before many months.

Superintendent R. D. White yesterday received a communication from William A. Sheldon, secretary to the Los Angeles board of trustees, stating that Los Angeles has not forgotten the need for a school in this vicinity.

"Please be advised that the board of education appreciates the desirability of relieving the Glendale schools of the attendance of children from the Atwater Tract," states Mr. Sheldon.

"And the board intends, if possible, to have some kind of school facilities on the Atwater Tract school site before next September, but is not in a position at this time to state what these facilities will be.

"But it is the intention of the board to consider this matter at the earliest practical date."

Here's Novel Method of Acquiring Nickels

NEW YORK—Next time you go into a telephone pay station, deposit your nickel, wait five minutes and fail to get your party, and the operator says "I will return your money," and you wait for the familiar tinkle of the jitney in the metallic "coin return" box, and it doesn't come and you are about to tell the operator that she is not playing fair with you; just take a close look at the slot through which the coins are supposed to drop.

Perhaps you will find there a wedge of paper, wood or some other substance, which prevents the release of the coveted coin. And when you take out the plug perhaps you will get not one nickel, but a whole rain of them.

This novel method of acquiring funds was discovered here when detectives apprehended David Levitch, eighteen-year-old clerk, in the act of collecting from his "route" of telephone coin boxes.

PSYCHO-ANALYSIS AND FREUD HELP UNEMPLOYMENT

By LEO T. HEATLEY, International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK.—You remember Freud, of course—he of the hash complex and other mysteries. Well, here he is bobbing up again, pairing with old man Psycho-Analysis as a committee of one to find the Complete Solution of the unemployment problem. The committee got along fine while dealing with Inner-Confusion and the Urge To Do, but suddenly a lot of lowbrows threw a wrench into the machine by asking for jobs.

The Hoover employment plan being worked out in detail by the Industrial Aid Bureau here follows a system of psycho-analysis which determines the amount of egoistic self-consciousness in each applicant for a job. Louis H. Sullivan, a "dollar a year" vocational expert, devotes his energies to the development of the system. Mental tests and facial angles were used at first, but now Sullivan picks his men through scientific psycho-analysis of the applicant's penmanship.

Sullivan explained that his system was as simple as an income tax blank, a mere matter of symmetry and curves and vibrations. Through working out his plans along Freudian lines Sullivan landed a retired army colonel in a $10,000 a year job as manager of a Western ranch. Here is Freud simplified:

And Now He Knows
"There was a time when I didn't know why a kicking horse always holds his ears back, which gives him the intelligent expression of a horse," he went on, "because I found out, and that's a discovery on which I pride myself just as much as on anything I've found out in human psychology. There you have the principle. And it works out in the study of handwriting."

"Here's a letter from a man that looks like a woman's shopping letter. You can see at a glance that it hasn't much character. And notice the unnecessary and futile attempts at ornamentation. Here is the final 'r' of the little word 'per' prolonged in a thick stroke for an inch and a half, proving that the writer makes a lot of fuss over nothing. Here are letters of the same word not connected, showing that he is not careful in many things, including money matters."

It's as Clear as—
"See the absence of differentiation in that 'l' and 'i'. Why, they're all alike. This is a man who has got to have everything his own way or else he can't work. Look at the blank space he left at the end of that line, although there was room for the next word. He can't adapt himself. The more money a man owes the more paper he covers in writing a letter. Here, on the other hand, he has crowded in a word at the end of a line when he should have carried it over to the next line. You see, there is no consistency in that character."

"I don't know why a long, lanky, red-faced man, with big hands and feet and a head that is long vertically and a triangular face—why such a man is always employed out of doors in one or two lines, either shipping or construction engineering—I don't know why, but I know it's always so."

He has studied men as types, with an eye to "physiology co-ordinated with the psychology of the animal,"

MEN ARE EXCEEDED BY WHITE WOMEN BY 11 MILLION

World War Brings Number to Nearly Three Times That Before Late Conflict

LONDON.—There are approximately 11,000,000 more females of the white race than males today, as compared with an excess of 4,000,000 before the war, according to statistics just made public here. The four million excess was swollen by the war to nearly three times its former dimensions, and the greatest proportional increase was in women between the ages of twenty and sixty years.

In another twenty years or so this excess should practically disappear by the action of natural sex increase if no disturbing factor should occur. The problem then will not be the want of balance of the sexes, but the pressure of population in the Old World, where, unless emigration takes on a more even sex flow, there will still be an excess of females, while in the New World the opposite condition will prevail.

Ten years ago the only parts of Europe in which males were in a majority were in the Balkan States, Bulgaria, Greece, Rumania, Serbia (and Bosnia-Herzegovina) and Luxemburg.

Russia and Great Britain
Every other country showed a greater or lesser excess of females. Numerically it was greatest in Russia and in Great Britain, proportionally in Portugal and Norway.

Ireland, Germany, Finland, Sweden and Switzerland all showed a persistent decline in the ratio of female excess.

In Austria-Hungary and the Netherlands a sharp rise from 1880 to 1890 was followed by a fall to 1910, while in Scotland a marked fall in the period 1881-91 was followed by a less marked rise to 1911.

England and Wales, Belgium, Denmark, France, Italy, Norway, Portugal and Spain all showed, however, a persistent rise in the proportion of females in the population.

Disproportionate Increase

Practically all the countries which had an excess in 1911 will show an increase of that excess in 1921, and in many cases, notably Germany, France, Austria-Hungary and Belgium, this increase will be, in consequence of the war, an entirely disproportionate one. Italy may not be so much affected as would otherwise be the case, as so many Italians returned from America to enroll, but even then the increase will presumably be a very large one.

Further, it is probable that the excess of males in the Balkan States will have completely disappeared. Altogether the figures show an excess of females among the white races of some eleven millions at the present time and make it clear that the emigration of women cannot bring about a balance of the sexes so far as those races are concerned.

It is true that in Europe a large proportion of the excess of women was, as has been shown, at ages over sixty and that in America the preponderance of males obtains throughout life.

Will Nature Help?
But the proportion in Europe has materially fallen through the war, and it is doubtful whether of the estimated 5,000,000 excess males in America more than four and one-half millions are between the ages of twenty and sixty, as an offset against the 13,000,000 excess women at those ages in Europe.

Nature, we are told, will right the balance in time, but this, even if true, does not help to solve the present problem. And it is worth while asking, is it true?

In the countries examined it is only in the case of France that an increase in the excess of females in the population was due to natural increase.

England's New Picture City Located on Thames

LONDON.—"Los Angeles - on - Thames" describes a wonderful film city, which is springing up at Walton-on-Thames.

Six big studios, with attendant buildings, are in course of erection, and Outlands Park, a fine old English estate, has been acquired for the development of film manufacture. It is appropriate that this development should take place at Walton, Thames Valley affords scenery that is incomparable anywhere.

Since then the Hepworth firm alone has turned out 5,500 films from one small studio, many of which have gained world-wide reputation.

There was bound to be a reaction against the constant Californian settings of film pictures, and Great Britain more than favorably compares with Los Angeles's best. The Thames Valley affords scenery that is incomparable anywhere.

A good deal of employment will be afforded British people, as it is intended to form resident stock companies to produce on the spot.

Two engines from German submarine U-19, weighing ninety-four tons, have been adapted at Walton to make the new production centre independent of the sunlight.

Outlands Park, which will be the setting for many films, is a romantic spot, acquired for the Crown by Henry VIII in 1537. James I and Charles I occupied the palace, the ruins of which still stand.

A grotto, costing over $200,000, was built in the grounds by the Duke of Newcastle from shells of every description from all parts of the world. This weird building is still in existence.

Artificial stalactites, inlaid with satin spar, ranite and coral, hang from the domed ceilings. The Allied Sovereigns dined there in 1814; in 1921 Leslie Henson used it for making the fun in "Alf's Button."

Henry Hunt Declares Business is Excellent

"Almost as cold as Canada!" exclaimed Henry Hunt of 606 West California avenue, this morning, as he cobbled a pair of shoes at the Modern Shoe Repair shop, 114 East Broadway. Mr. Hunt came from Toronto, but admits that he has no desire to go back there to reside. He says that the shoe repair business is now in full swing and will continue to occupy all of his attention until next June at least.

Arthur Holzman Is Satisfied With Trade

"Well, we have just finished taking inventory," declared Arthur Holzman of the Glendale Dry Goods store, 115 East Broadway, this morning. "Our holiday trade was bigger than we expected. In fact, we had our hands full. The rain? Oh, that didn't bother us any. Lots of our summer goods have been received already."

But Mr. Holzman hasn't put any of them on display yet. Beside the door he has placed some nice, warm, thick wool, bright pink and green scarfs.

COLONIAL CONCERT IS PRESENTED BY MADRIGAL CLUB

Very Pretty Picture Is Made on Stage; Suitable Program Heartily Received

(Continued from Page 1.) Fred Hewett, student and chief electrician at the High School and his assistant, Willard Roberts, gratuitously managed the curtain and the excellent lighting effects. Winifred Parker and Jack Wright presided at the door.

Here Is Program
The program was composed of the following numbers:
"The Dusk Witch" (Paul Ambrose) by Madrigal Club.
Anitra's Dance (from "Peer Gynt" Suite, Grieg) by Madrigal Club.
A Hindoo Chant (Kreisl) by Madrigal Club.
B. Liebesfreud (Kreisl) by Dorothy Welcome.
Cupid made love to the moon. (D. L. Smith) By Mrs. McMullin and Club.
Morning (Edward Poldini) by Madrigal Club.
The Dancing Doll (Edward Poldini) by Mrs. Viereck, Mrs. Draper and Club.
Joyous Spring, Waltz Song (Herbert Spencer) By Mrs. Virginia Freeman.
Lullaby (G. W. Chadwick) By Mrs. Roach, Mrs. Shaw and Club.
Minuet (Patty Stair) Ladies' Quartette—first soprano, Mrs. H. M. McMullin, second soprano, Mrs. Roscoe Puffer, first alto, Mrs. A. M. Draper, second alto, Mrs. John W. Cotton.
Dancers—Mrs. Chas. H. Meadows, Mrs. Roscoe Puffer, Jr., Mrs. H. V. Henry, Mrs. L. J. Burris.

List of Club Members
The club which was organized three years ago with only twelve members now has a membership of thirty. This includes the president, Mrs. John W. Cotton; director, Mrs. Chas. A. Parker; accompanist, Mrs. J. A. Wright; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. A. R. Chappell; vice-president, Mrs. C. L. Peckham; Mrs. C. D. Roach, Mrs. John M. Ray, Mrs. C. L. Viereck, Mrs. C. J. Tuttle, Mrs. E. B. Moore, Mrs. Paul A. Hoffman, Mrs. C. G. Bell, Mrs. H. N. McMullin, Mrs. Virginia Freeman, Mrs. L. J. Burris, Mrs. B. B. Kugler, Mrs. R. A. Puffer, Mrs. R. A. Puffer, Jr., Mrs. L. E. Richardson, Mrs. H. V. Henry, Mrs. Hartley B. Shaw, Mrs. Perry E. Maxwell, Mrs. Chas. H. Meadows, Mrs. A. M. Draper, Mrs. C. I. Sherwood, Mrs. H. L. Bullinger, Mrs. Helen E. McMullin.

Mrs. Freeman, soprano soloist, is a comparatively new member, and her selections were received last night with a storm of applause. Her voice has wonderful range, is rich and full, and the club may well consider themselves fortunate in securing this talented woman as a member.

ROYAL ARCH MASONS IN SERVICE FOR NEW OFFICERS

Hold Installation Ceremonies at Masonic Temple With 150 in Attendance

(Continued from Page 1.) altar to take the obligation of that office. He was then presented with the charter and conducted to his station in the east. This was followed by music by the O'Gorman trio.

Obligated at Altar
The officers, elective and appointive, were then obligated at the altar. Frederick Addison Collins, in scarlet robe symbolic of the Royal Arch degree, was then presented for installation as King and after receiving badge of office and instructions was conducted to his station.

In a similar manner Thomas Francis Carter was presented for installation as Scribe. Daniel Campbell was then installed as treasurer and Ben O. Hagen as secretary. Alfonso Lafayette Chandler as chaplain, Bert Ermon Warner as captain of the host, Charles P. Chamberlain as principal sojourner and R. T. Lawson as Royal Arch captain. This was followed by music by the O'Gorman trio.

The next officers presented for installation were Wiley Irvin Gibb as Master of the 3rd Vail, William H. Reynolds as Master of the 2nd Vail, Monte C. Brucker as Master of the 1st Vail, D. C. Lindley as organist and Charles H. Ravenscroft as sentinel "for the fourteenth time." It was stated by the master of ceremonies.

Presentation Made
The program was closed by a reading, "Kentucky Belle," by Mrs. Joseph Marple, and music by the O'Gorman trio, during which "Dad" Ravenscroft staged an impromptu dance, after which the members and guests adjourned to the banquet room, where refreshments of coffee, cake, ice-cream and fruit were served.

On behalf of the members of the chapter, Benjamin O. Hagen, presented to retiring high priest Ernest J. Morgan for the latter's wife a handsome silver percolator, which was received by him with appropriate words of thanks for the token of esteem and also for the co-operation given him during his term of office.

CITY'S EDUCATIONAL PLANT APPRAISED AT LARGE SUM

Facts and Figures on All Grammar and Elementary Schools Given Out

(Continued from Page 1.) board—or taxpayers, rather. This building is appraised at $80,000 and insured for $45,500 and its furnishings are valued at $6,500 and insured for $4700.

Central school comes third on the list, being held in trust for future citizens at a valuation of $39,000 or $26,000 for the main building and the kindergarten, kindergarten and $2000 for the furniture in them. The total insurance carried is $16,500.

How Schools Rank
Pacific school is appraised at $38,000, which is divided between $35,000 for the building itself and $3000 for its furniture. Over $21,000 of insurance is carried on the building and over $3000 on the furniture or total insurance of $24,300.

Corritos school represents an investment of $20,000 for the building and $5,350 for its furniture or $25,350. Insurance policies upon it aggregate $18,425.

Columbus school is insured for $19,050 for a total valuation of $23,000 divided between $18,000 for the building and $5,000 for its furnishings.

Colorado school building is valued at $15,000 and its furnishings at $4,000 more or a total of $19,000. It is protected by $10,500 worth of insurance.

Doran school is covered by $10,000 worth of insurance and valued at $12,000 including $10,000 for the building and $2,000 for the furniture.

Acacia school is worth only $500 less or $11,500 including $10,000 for the building and $1,500 for the furniture. It is insured for $3,500.

Magnolia school is last on the list, being insured for $3,400, and valued at $9,700, including $9,000 for the building and $700 for its furniture.

Los Feliz Bridge to Open in About Week

The Los Feliz bridge should be open to traffic again within the next week or ten days, according to M. B. Towman, manager of the local branch of the California Automobile club, 248 South Brand boulevard. He has received a communication to that effect from E. E. East, highway investigating engineer for the club, who called upon the city engineer of Los Angeles to obtain information. Garage men and merchants in southern Glendale will be delighted with this news as suspension of traffic to and from Hollywood has greatly handicapped their business, they say.

Intermediate School To Present Program

Curiosity today grips both pupils and teachers at the Intermediate school.

The program to be presented there this afternoon at 3:30 and tonight at 8 o'clock is the one topic of discussion.

This is under the auspices of the school's athletic association. A "menu" has been mimeographed for the occasion—but it is written in numbers and dollar marks. Anyhow, it is understood that Helen White will whistle "The Blue Bird," Leona Hunt will present a piano-logic, and Mildred Tubbs will interpret a reading.

Another number will be contributed by "The Sumfunny Orchestra" and "Nicolas Hambone" will perform upon the Jewshapp—no, wait a minute, it's a harmonica. A comedy will be furnished by some burnt corks and "The Sniggles Family" is booked for a family row—or something.

LYNCHING IS PREVENTED

STREATOR, Ill., Jan. 20. — The lynching of F. C. Mason, superintendent of the Metal Stamping corporation's plant, by a mob of 300 strikers in the course of a riot at the factory gate was narrowly averted by the police. A rope had already been placed around Mason's neck, according to reports, when a rescuing squad of police arrived on the scene.

For several weeks the plant has been operating about one-fifth capacity with a force of twenty non-union men. The riot started when Mason arrived at the factory in his automobile.

MY MIRACULOUS ESCAPE
I suffered 16 years with asthma in its worst form. Dr. B. J. Holland, Chiropractor, 310 Columbia building, 313 W. 3rd, was recommended to me, for asthma, and nervous conditions. After taking adjustments for three months I am glad to say I am free from asthma, feeling fine, and sleep well, digest all my food and have gained in weight and able to work every day. I am having this in the paper for the benefit of those who are sick or afflicted. Yours for better health. Mrs. Roy Ritchey, 1814 East 65th St., Los Angeles.

Vaudeville Show at T. D. & L. Sure to Satisfy Big Crowds

Headlining the vaudeville road show which Meiklejohn and Dunn are bringing to the T. D. & L. theatre today and Saturday will be William Moore and his company of players in the sketch, "Double Lives." This is the same playlet which headlined the bill at Proctor's theatre in New York and supporting Mr. Moore will be found Walter Rogers, the film favorite.

Direct from Australia comes Balmus, exponent of balancing and art posing. As an athlete Balmus cannot be surpassed and he offers many difficult feats rarely seen in this country.

Louis London is offering as his part of the entertainment an act which is really most beautiful. New songs, written especially for him, by the late Jack London will be presented by this talented songster and as the close of his act Mr. Moore offers a dance with Geraldine, "the million dollar doll."

In addition to the vaudeville there will be shown on Friday and Saturday the feature photoplay "Courage."

BROADWAY MARKETS INVITE PUBLIC TO FORMAL OPENING

Very Attractive Stores Offer
Bargains; Specials to Be Given on Saturday

Tomorrow will be a gala day for shoppers in the vicinity of Glendale avenue and Broadway. The new Broadway Markets, a combination of four stores, will have their formal opening with refreshments served during the day.

Harry G. MacBain has spent $3000 in additional equipment to make his grocery store one of the most modern in the city. He has been at the same location for nine years, first as manager of the Shaver Grocery company, later its president, and only recently changing the name to MacBain's Grocery. He carries a complete line of staple groceries and vegetables.

Attractive Quarters
C. W. Ingledeu, proprietor of the Glendale Market, also owns the building and spent $2500 in rearranging the place into the "one storehouse for all." He has placed the fixtures advantageously and installed himself in a neat well lighted office.

Blodeau Brothers conduct the Virginia bakery and having had experience with the Glendale trade; their brand new equipment gives them every advantage to keep dollars in Glendale.

Mesdames Fess and Rhodes will conduct the lunch counter and delicatessen where home cooking will be found. They will cater to business men who enjoy quick service and good food.

Model Drug Store
At the corner the Glendale Pharmacy, of which C. A. Stuart is the proprietor, will soon be found one of the most modern drug stores in the city. Remodeling will cost in the neighborhood of $5,000 and includes the installation of a 16-foot soda fountain, cases for a candy department and stationery stock. An alteration sale is now in progress. The Broadway Markets are located at 622-624-626 East Broadway. An announcement of Saturday specials will be found in the advertising columns of this issue of The Glendale Evening News.

Council Minutes

motion to amend Councilman Davis' vote: Ayes: Davis, Kimlin, Lapham, Robinson, Stephenson. Noes: None. Councilman Davis' license ordinance he intended to change the surety bonds from $10,000 to $5,000. Same was carried by the following vote: Ayes: Davis, Kimlin, Lapham, Robinson, Stephenson. Noes: None.

The original motion of Councilman Davis was thereby carried.

Regional Planning
On motion of Councilman Kimlin, the city manager was appointed the official delegate to represent the city of Glendale at a meeting of Regional Planning Committee to be held at Pasadena, Saturday, January 21st, 1922. Roll call, all voting aye.

Councilman Davis moved that the city attorney draft an ordinance regulating the installation of oil wells in the city of Glendale. Roll call, all voting aye.

Boy Scouts Banquet
Roy Kent appeared before the Council and invited in behalf of the Boy Scouts of Glendale the members to a banquet to be held January 27th at 6:30 p. m.

On motion of Councilman Lapham, six plates were received, roll call, all voting aye.

Adjourned.

Moonshine Is Success As Fuel for Flivver

MOUNTAIN HOME, Ark.—One of those popular "rattlers" will run on the stuff, don't ever doubt it, and if you run out of gas and can't find a kerosene tank handy sit down by a tree and howl like a dog, or give three knocks on the smokehouse door, and you'll get in.

Bill Kelsey, who was making an overland tour through the Ozarks, drove into this place with an odor coming from his exhaust pipe that made a lot of people thirsty. He ran out of gas in the mountains and had to fill his tank with moonshine. Attention was attracted to the flivver on account of its actions. It had a musical note in its cough and was doing the highland fling. After it had been filled with gas it had to be coaxed before it would run.

DAN CUPID FALLS DOWN

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Dan Cupid's aim was not as accurate in 1921 as in the year previous in this county, a glance at the county clerk's records shows. Only 1498 licenses were issued last year, while in 1920 1,700 couples were linked in wedlock. Divorces numbered 305 during the year, a ratio of more than one-fifth of the marriages.

WHAT KIND OF PIES GROW?

LEGRANGE, Ohio.—Extra! Help! A young bride from Cleveland inquired about pie plants while visiting her aunt here.

"We like pies. I'd like to see what kind of pies grow. If we like them we will want some of the plants in the spring," the bride from the nation's "fifth city" told her aunt.

A Chilly Smile for Us
Have New Homes Prepared
Our Substantial Citizens

By Gil A. Cowan

HA! Our eastern friends will smile at southern California's snowstorm of yesterday.

Over in Orange county a flurry of the fluffy white hit Fullerton folk in the eye and melted away soon after it touched the ground.

At Perris in Riverside county an inch of snow blanketed the grain fields and made old residents uncomfortable while the more recent arrivals from the east appreciated the "old home" color added to a California winter.

Of course, the cold spell is unusual. That's what everything seems to be in southern California, for so many have arrived recently in the southland and do not know of the seasons when snow has fallen as far south as Calipatria in the Imperial valley.

In some sections the frost during the night was felt. For instance the family flivver may have been hard to start, but there were big cars which had the same tendency.

Smudge pots blazed forth in every orange grove and to their good offices is attributed the salvation of the citrus crop more than once before.

Many residents of the east, who are not as yet acclimated to the stoveless Eden, feel colder today than they ever did "back home." That is to be expected, while thousands are happy that the frost actually deals with pests such as flies.

The opening of two new public markets—one at San Fernando road and Brand boulevard and the other at Broadway and Glendale avenue—will give Glendale people something to think about Saturday other than "simply shopping."

And in the evening after the sun has set and the week's worries are at end, it will be pleasing to adjourn to a new cafe and enjoy dancing with your dinner.

Boy, please page Mr. R. O. O. F. Garden.

In an interview given the Hollywood Daily Citizen, Chief of Police James W. Everington of Los Angeles is quoted as saying:

"My main headquarters while an army major were in Minnesota, but as soon as I retired I came, quite naturally, to California. I bought a home in Hollywood, but, for private reasons, moved to Glendale where I have been residing since. I am very fond of this locality, however," he said referring to Hollywood.

This sounded mighty interesting to me, so I inquired of Chief Everington this morning "how it happened."

"Well, we motored all over southern California looking for the kind of a place we wanted and Mrs. Everington found it in Hollywood. Then the owner refused to consummate the deal, so we started search again, which brought us to Glendale."

There you have an answer to one reason why Glendale grows and grows. If this city has the homes ready at reasonable prices, there will be scores of people shunted here daily from Hollywood and Pasadena.

Pasadena is a peculiar place for property investment. Some of its finest homes can be bought most cheaply. It seems that a man with a $20,000 income can be contented over there, but when it drops to $5,000—well, there is but one thing to do. Move to Glendale and out of swifter set of spenders.

This has actually occurred during the past year and it shows good judgment on the part of those moving this way. There are a lot of mighty substantial citizens here who have money and hang onto it. A man asked me yesterday:

"Do you know Ed. B.?" Well, he's worth hundreds of thousands of dollars."

The last time I saw him he was clerking in a store at $18 a week, the same kind of work in which he had started on the road to fortune.

DINE IN SHIRT SLEEVES

VIENNA—Is it permissible for a man to sit in his shirt sleeves in a Viennese cafe? That is the question before a Viennese judge. An architect of unconventional habits sat in the restaurant garden of the Elsvogel dressed in a tussore silk suit, but the sun burned fiercely on him and he took off his coat, disclosing a pale blue silk shirt.

Two other guests—possibly envious because their shirts were not silken—objected, and the proprietor requested the architect to put on his coat. He refused. The envious ones and the host then proceeded to ridicule the architect until his temperature had risen to the point of calling in the police.

Hawaiian Gets Kick Out of Native Liquor

HONOLULU, T. H.—Hawaii, like other parts of the United States, can no longer legally procure good old-fashioned rye and bourbon whiskies with which to quench its thirst, but as it is so, he corked in it has a drink which has the old standbys beaten by a good 30 per cent.

Recent laboratory tests made by the Hawaiian department of the United States army show that okolehao, the native Hawaiian liquor, contains 65 per cent alcohol. Districts of Honolulu where this liquor is known to be peddled by bootleggers have been placed under ban by local army headquarters, officers and enlisted men of the department being forbidden to enter these districts.

Why women cry when they are glad is still on the unanswered question list.

ONE SUBSCRIPTION OF $40,000 MADE HOTEL PROJECT

R. Marshall Ferguson Declares
Quick Action to Be Given in Securing Building

R. Marshall Ferguson, local representative of the Fred B. Davis company, builders of The Glendale Hotel, with offices at 723 East Broadway, announces that a $40,000 stock subscription has been made, an indication that there is every confidence in the new concern's accomplishment of Glendale's greatest need—a modern tourist hotel.

"The ready response we are meeting is considered a decided compliment by the Fred B. Davis firm," Mr. Ferguson states. "And we intend to go 'straight ahead' with this work. Glendale people want action in this hotel matter and they are going to get it."

"Within a very few days I expect to be able to announce several substantial subscriptions which will make investors take notice of this opportunity to put their money in the first large hotel here. With the thousands of people coming to Glendale, the wonder city, there is every reason to predict the great financial success this enterprise will enjoy, I am sure."

Prospects Excellent

"If the Fred B. Davis company had not made a satisfactory investigation of the possibilities, we would not tie up with the Ambrosini Hotel corporation in doing that which less experienced builders would essay to tackle."

From bankers, directors of the corporation and others interested in giving Glendale a fine tourist establishment comes the word that prospects are rosy. The R. L. Kent company, architects, are rushing the plans, but slightly modified, and crews are available to push forward with construction as rapidly as possible.

Jail Is So Home Like Prisoners Beg to Stay

HUNTSVILLE, Mo.—Prisoners in the county jail at Huntsville receive good treatment. This is proved by the fact that two prisoners recently released after they had served their sentences went back to the jail and asked for quarters for the winter.

"Last week I released two prisoners from the county jail," said Sheriff John Milam. "They had both served their time. One was a white man whose home was in Moberly. The other, a negro, claims Huntsville as his home."

"The negro came back and asked if he could remain in the jail the rest of the winter and then along came the white man, who had walked back from Moberly to beg to go to jail for several months."

The prisoners at the jail, who number five, recently went out on a butchering trip with Sheriff Milam, with the promise that if they worked hard all day he would try and make arrangements for a "chicken" feed for them at night. The prisoners, all negroes, worked hard all day and the sheriff gave them the "chickens" at quitting time and the prisoners cooked them at night.

"But I've got to quit that," said Sheriff Milam, "because as long as they can get 'chickens' they are content to spend the rest of their lives in jail."

"Chickens" are a local negro delicacy, concocted from hog entrails.

LUMBERJACKS ARE WANTED

PORTLAND, Ore.—Pacific lumbermen in the Pacific Northwest have announced that they will soon be operating their lumber camps with an employment double that of last year. The announcement was followed by a feeling of optimism regarding the unemployment situation in this section. The lumbermen plan to operate on such a large scale that they even anticipate a shortage of labor in some classes.

Give the average man a chance to talk about himself and he will deliver the goods.
